THE CIRCLE GAME

Yesterday a child came out to wander and caught a dragonfly inside a jar and tearful when the skies were full of thunder

and tearful at the falling of a star.

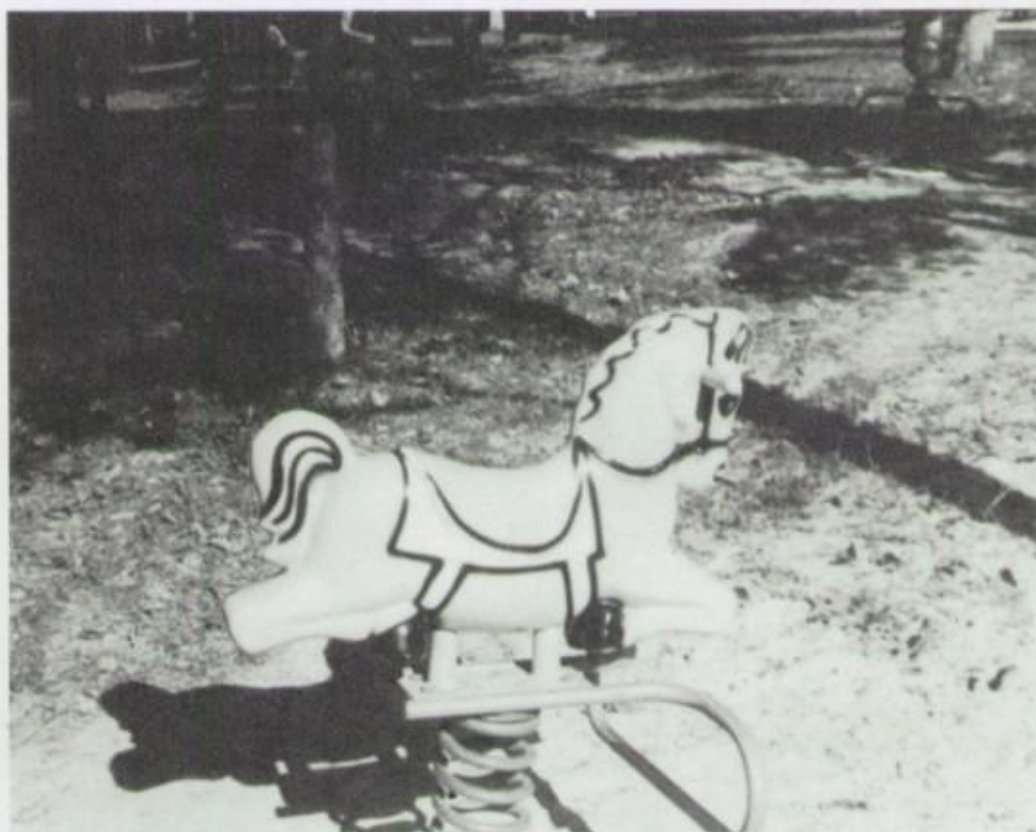

And the seasons they go round and round
painted ponies go up and down

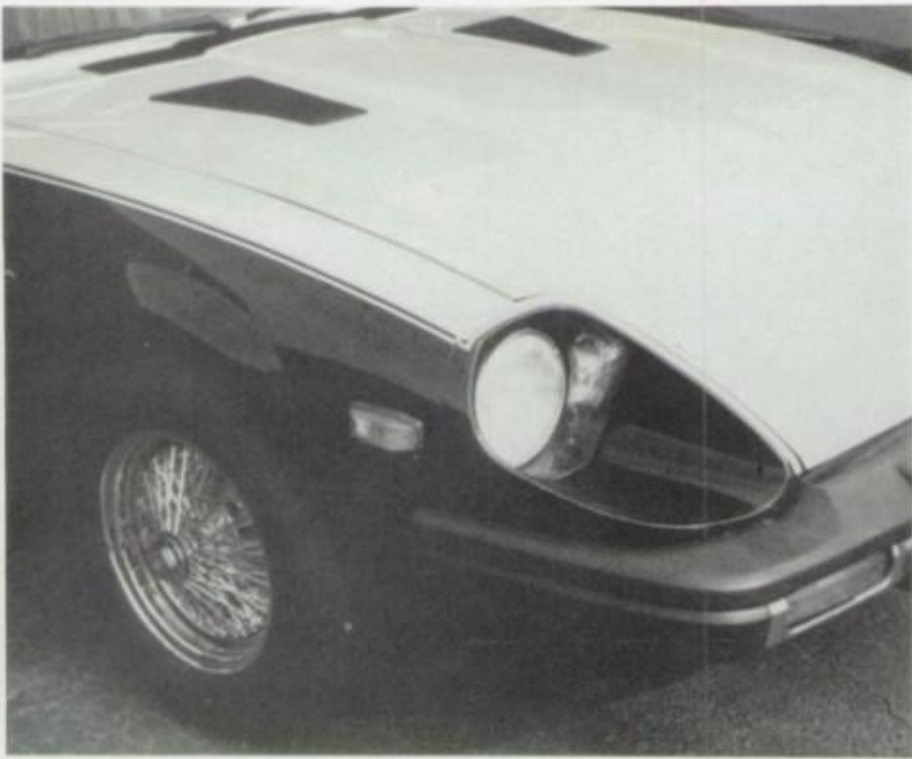

We're captive on the carousel of time
We can't return; we can only look behind

from where we came and go round and round in the circle games.

Then the child moved ten times
 round the seasons
 And skated over ten clear frozen streams
 Words like when you're older must appease him
 And promises of someday make his dreams.

And sixteen springs and sixteen summers gone now
 And cartwheels turn to car
 wheels through the town
 They tell him—take your time
 it won't be long now
 Until you drag your feet
 to slow the circle down

Leisa -
I've enjoyed

you. You're

Theatre Goers Thrilled With CAROUSEL

Excitement filled the dressing rooms as final touches to make-up and last minute sashes and scarfs were tied. Cast members awaited the dimming of the houselights and the beginning of the overture. The audience is filled to capacity as the stage suddenly becomes a fair grounds with the carousel taking the spotlight. Showgirls, clowns, jugglers, and ice-cream eaters enjoy the thrills of the fair.

On April 24, 25, and 26, moms and dads came to see the results of hundreds of hours of rehearsal—sometimes early in the morning, other times late at night. The director, Joseph Gamble, expressed that the decision to do CAROUSEL came from the students; and that rehearsals, set building, and costume designs had been the easiest of all the musicals he has produced.

The production, with it's thrilling musical accompaniment by Ronnie Lambert, it's superb acting and singing by Rusty Crenshaw, the delightful performances of Angie Crater, Delaine Edwards, Dwayne Hines, Abbie McLean, Keith Hewitt and other cast members closed with tears, joy, and thoughts of "let's do another performance."

"What will we do next?"

RUSTY CRENSHAW

"Multi-talented" describes Rusty Crenshaw. His singing, piano, dancing and acting have singled him out as the best THS has to offer. Active in all phases of school life, he has been president of the BOSS club for three years, a leader in student council, but remembered most for his starring rolls in the Gamboliers musical productions.

DEBRA WEST

Always concerned for the entire student body, the president of the student body, Debra West stands out. A member of many clubs, including NFS and BETA, Debra has excelled scholastically and was selected DAR good citizen.

STANDING OUT!

To be honored as outstanding in the class of 240 seniors was an accomplishment that needed to be retained. The twelve were selected by the faculty which adds to the thrill!

All were different. All had different interests, different ideas and a different outlook for the future. All have one thing in common—they were those who stood out!

JOETTA MOORE

Chosen Miss Trinity 1980, Joetta Moore was a Junior Marshall and secretary of the BETA Club. Active in several clubs while in high school, she chose the Keyettes during her senior year.

TODD ARMSTRONG

Playing football, basketball, baseball and golf, Todd Armstrong proved himself an excellent athlete. He was selected MOST SCHOOL SPIRITED in his class and received recognition by his coaches for his participation in the sports program.

SANDIE VINSON

Supplying leadership at the pep rallies and sports events, Sandie Vinson has shown much enthusiasm. Sandie has played basketball and softball and was a member of six clubs. She was voted MOST SCHOOL SPIRITED by her classmates.

STANDING OUT!

Was there anything that caused these students to deserve such an award? A combination of hard work and ambition paved their way towards excellence in academics, athletics, cultural arts and attitudes. Each left their own contributions. A contribution that brought triumph to twelve years of hard work.

LATEFA MORGAN

BETA club members chose Latefa Morgan for President 1980-81. Interested in the humanities, Latefa sang in the school chorus, musicals, piano contests and was a member of the cheerleaders her senior year.

BETH HENKEL

Serving as school mascot her senior year, Beth Henkel's acrobatic skills thrilled the Bulldog fans. She has been outstanding in many dance contests and talent shows. She was a member of the Monogram, BOSS, and Drama clubs.

PAM EWINGS

A cheerleader for three years and co-captain her senior year, Pam Ewings stands out! A member of the "Blue Crew" and Keyettes, Pam also worked in the guidance department for two years.

MARK BARNES

A varsity football, basketball and baseball athlete, Mark Barnes was quarterback for the Trinity Bulldogs and voted the most athletic senior. He has also been a leader of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Monogram club.

PAT VESTAL

When we think of someone who helped in every phase of high school activities, Pat Vestal is the girl. She served the library, guidance and office conscientiously. Her interest in sports was shown by managing. A member of most clubs, Pat was a vital part of the annual staff.

BILLY CORN

President of his Junior class and a member of the VICA club his Junior and Senior athlete, Billy played football, wrestled, but stood out most in baseball.

JOHN STEPP

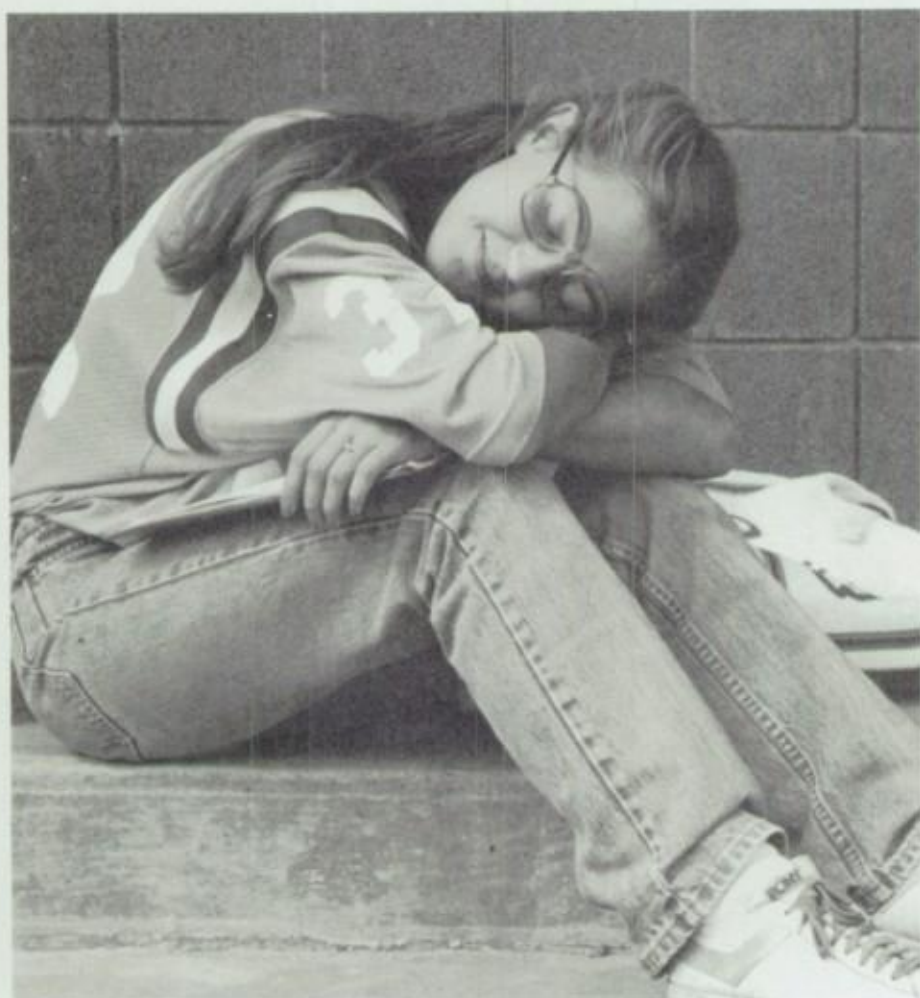

As Sectional and Regional Champion, with a record of 31-1, John Stepp has proven himself an outstanding wrestler. Being a superb athlete, he has been a spark in the athletic program for all of his high school years.

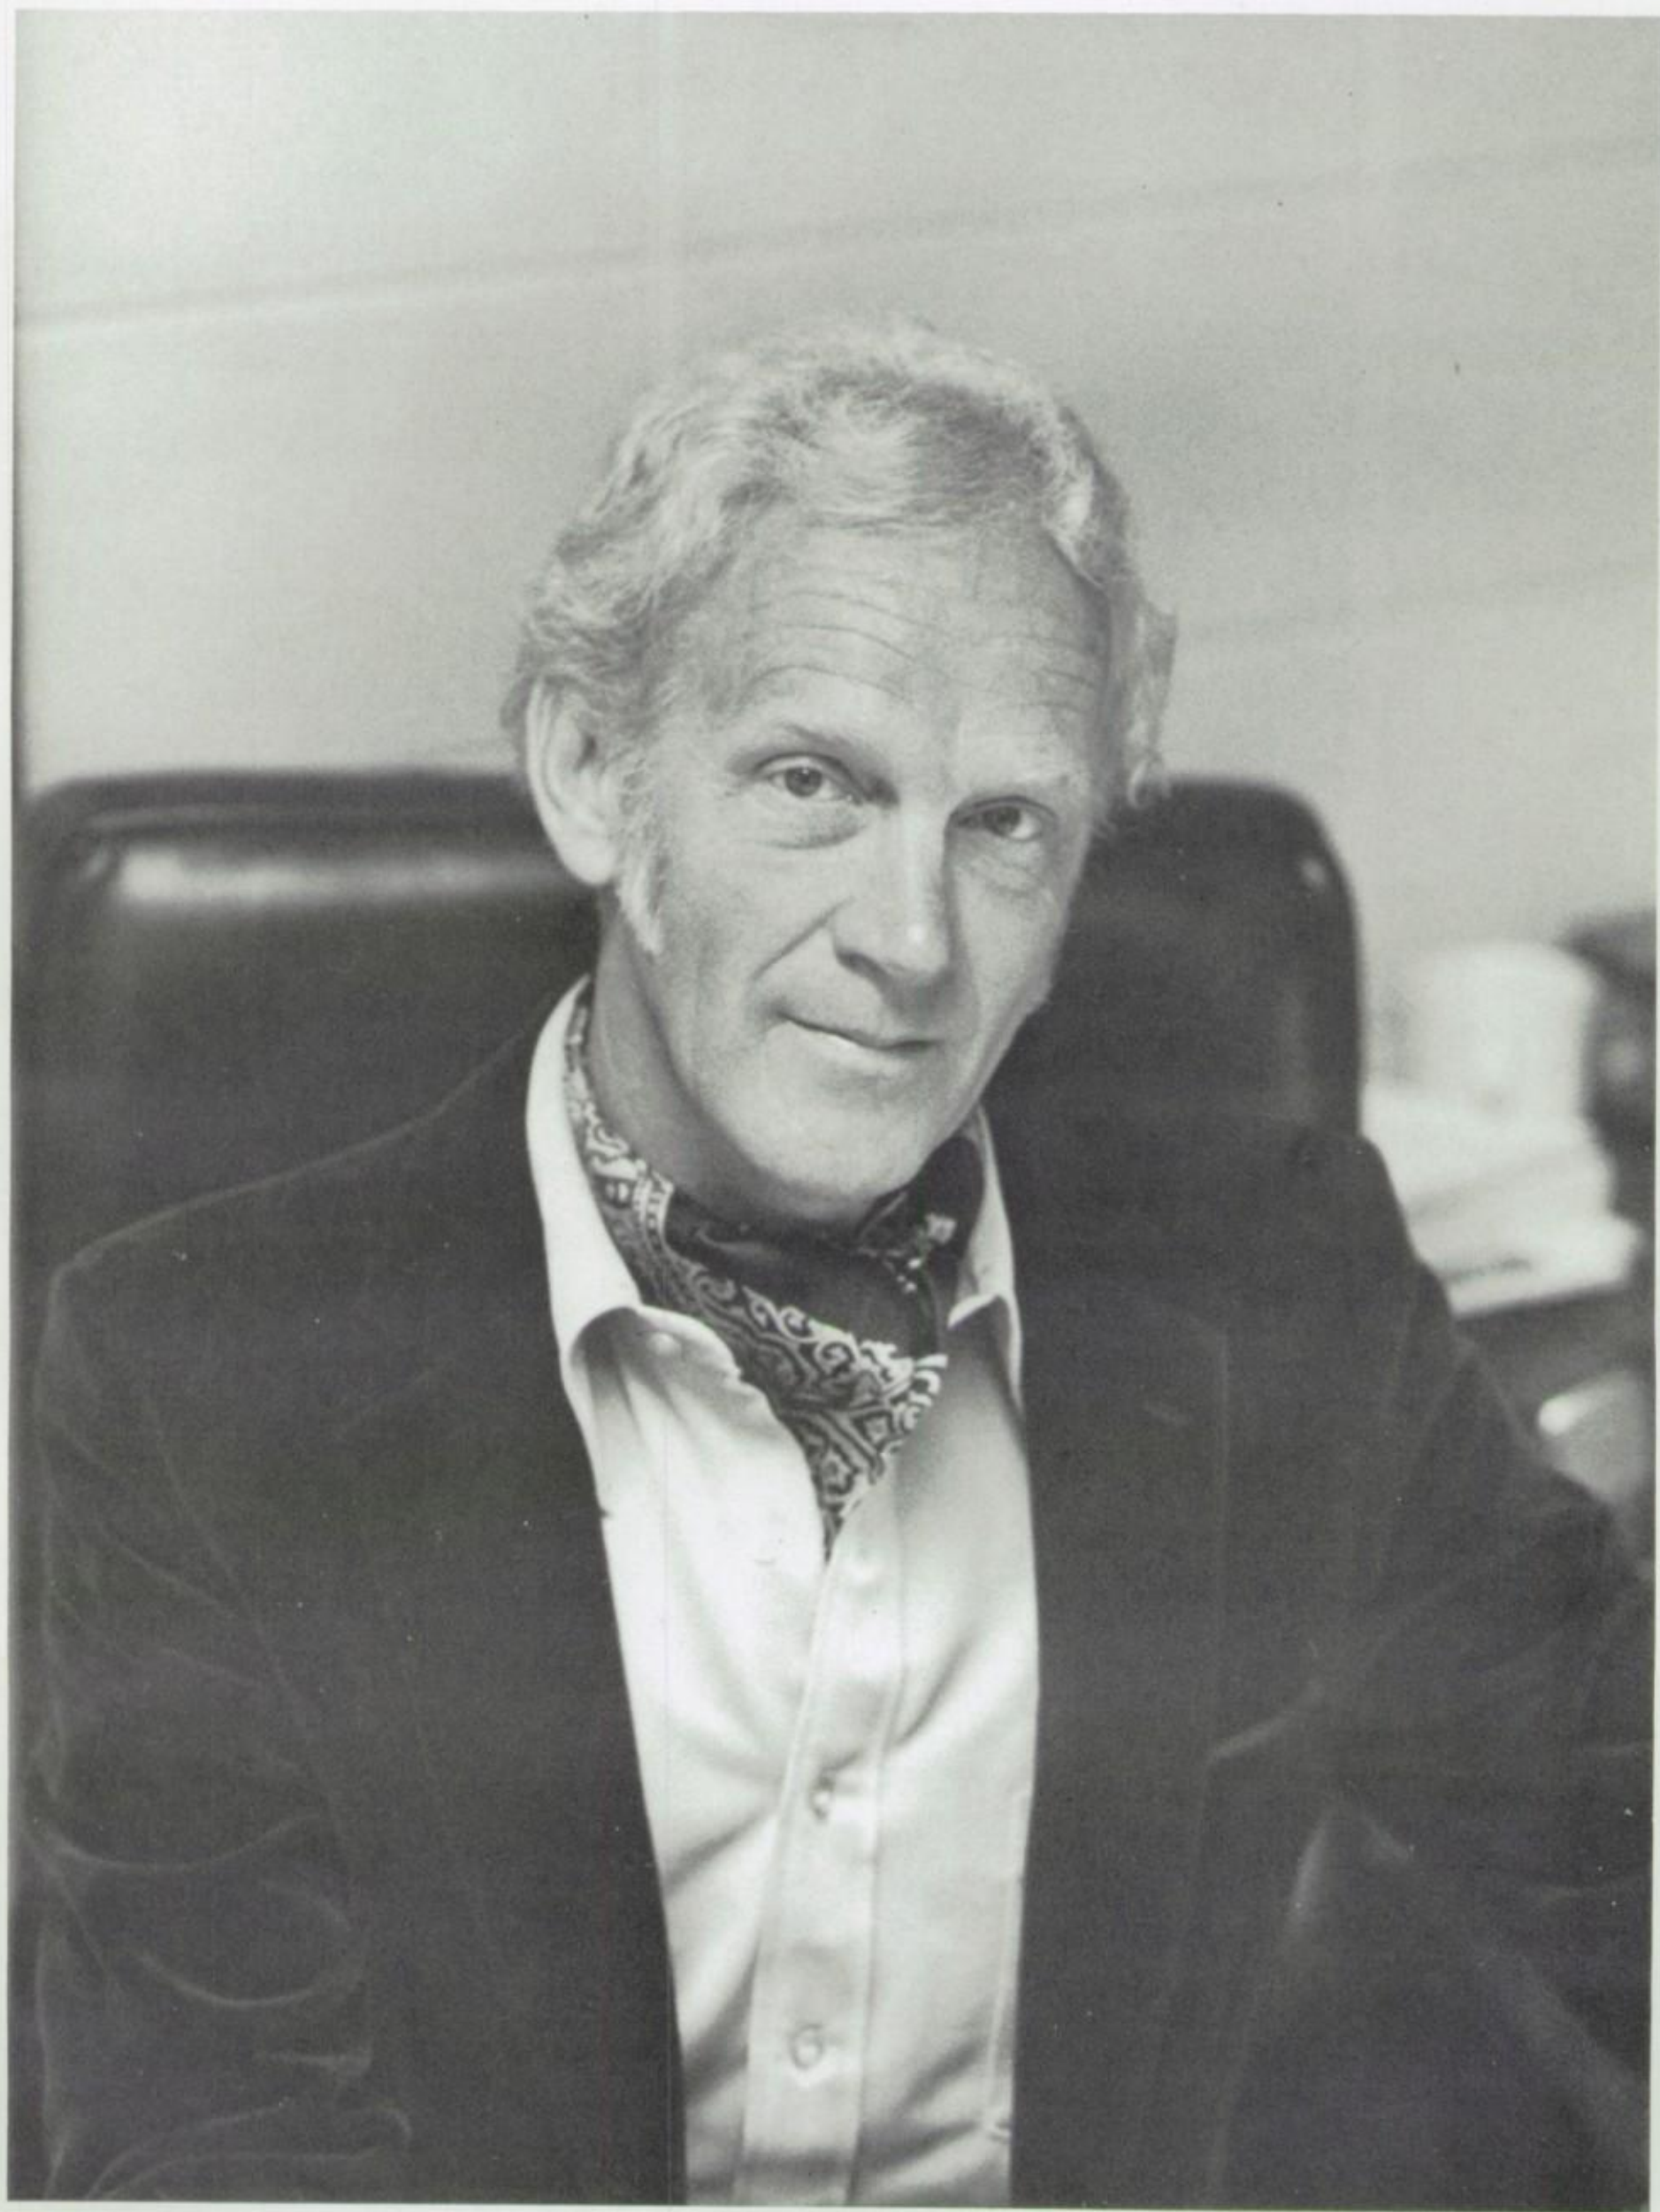

STANDING OUT!

They were the backbone, the leaders of the class that wanted to be remembered. They were the best of the class. Because of these special twelve out-of-the-ordinary students, the class of '81 will be well thought of and forever remembered.

And the child who dreamed tomorrow
 now is twenty and though his dreams have lost some grandeur coming true
 There'll be new dreams and maybe better dreams and plenty—
 before the last revolving year is through.

"Men who deserve monuments do not need them."

IN DEDICATION

Mr. Joseph P. Gamble

Each year the senior class picks a member from either the school staff or faculty and honors him/her with the dedication of that year's edition of the TRINHIAN. The Class of 1981 proudly recognizes Mr. Joe Gamble as the one most deserving of this honor.

Mr. Gamble serves as one of the assistant principals of our high school. We at Trinity, however, know Mr. Gamble by his day to day friendships, his year to year support and his examples that merit respect.

Mr. Gamble is a graduate of Guilford College. In the twenty-one years that he has been at Trinity, he has directed our former chorus group, the Gamboliers, and has also produced "sell-out" theatrical dramas. For the past several years Mr. Gamble has been in charge of the fire marshals and has sponsored the BOSS Club. This year he tackled the job of being a sponsor of the 1981 TRINHIAN.

Congratulations, Mr. Gamble for receiving an honor of which you are so deserving!

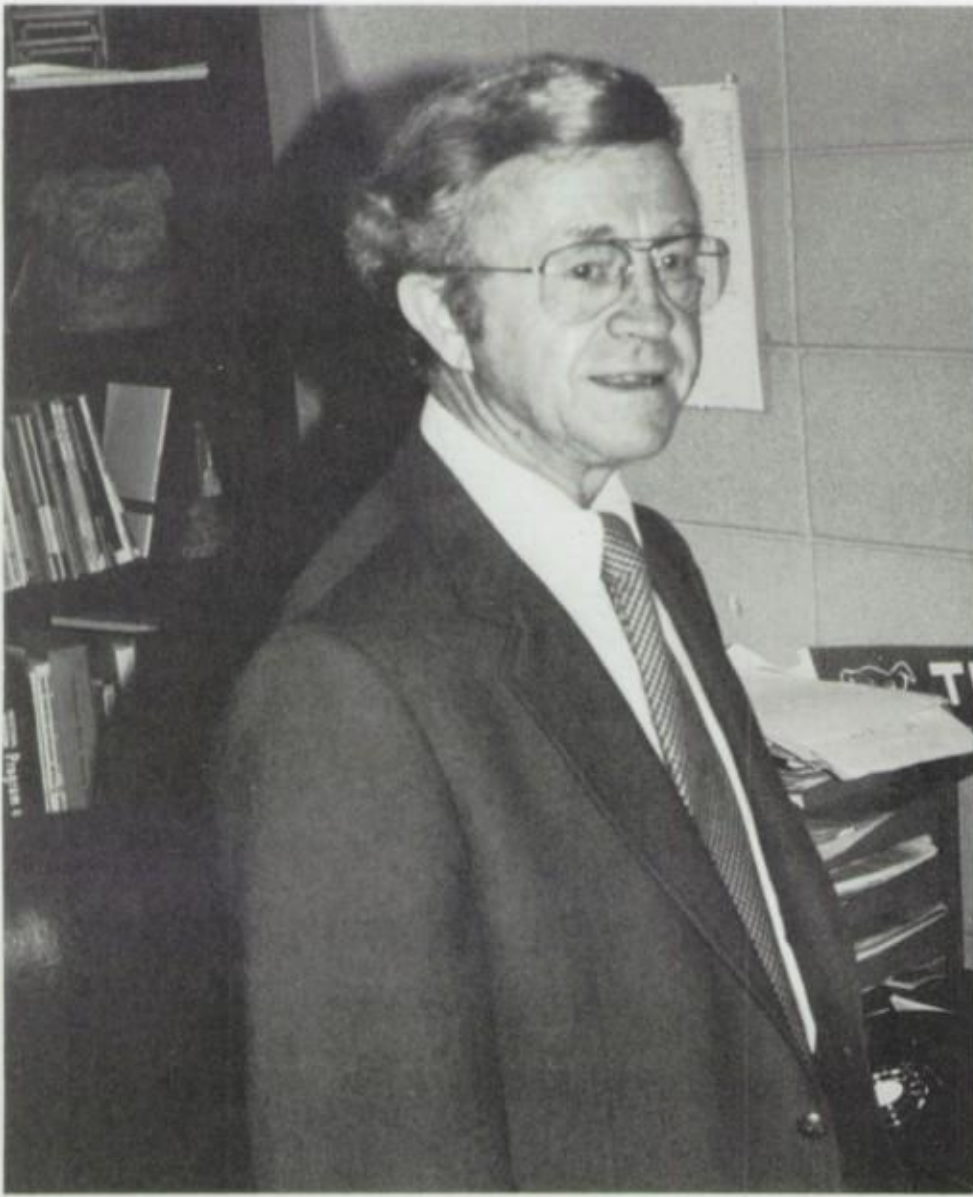

...And though his dreams have lost some grandeur coming true
There'll be new dreams and maybe better dreams and plenty—
Before the last revolving year is through.

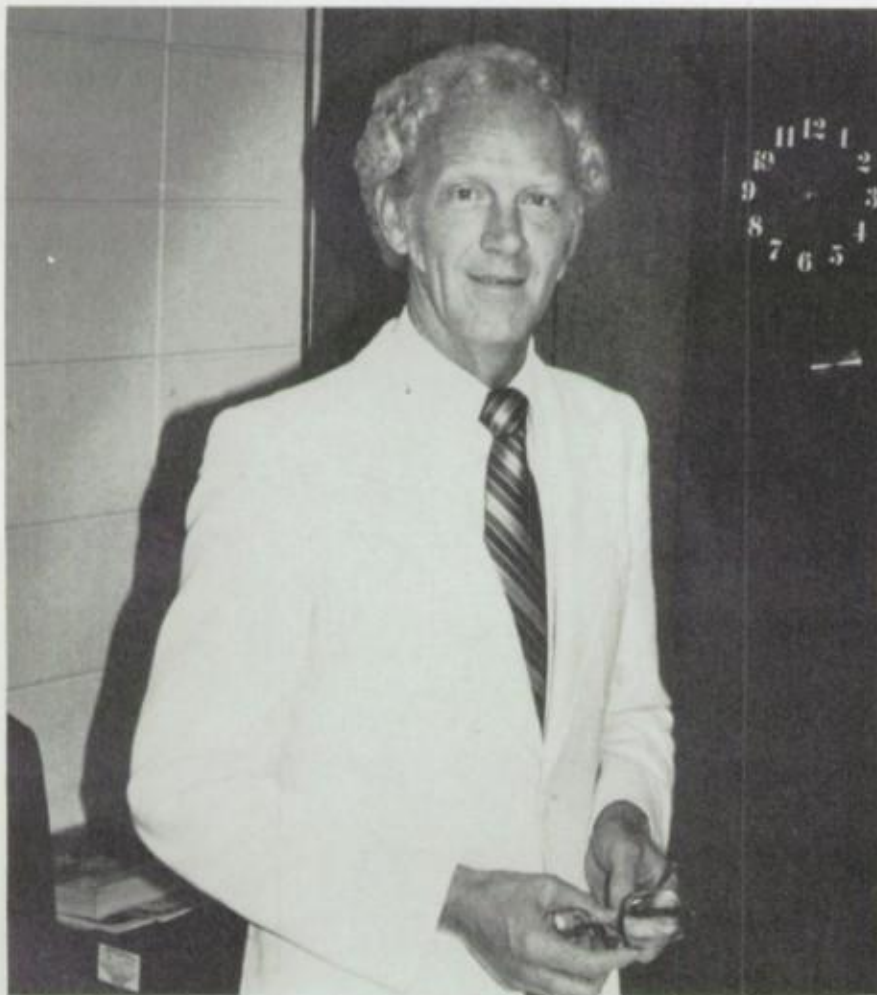

—Joni Mitchell

ADMINISTRATION

The School year 1980-81 will be recorded as one of the best for Trinity High School. This is a year when so many will be able to look back with pride at the achievements accomplished. Unfortunately for some, there will be regrets but even they hopefully have learned a lesson and will look to the future for an opportunity to improve. We are extremely fortunate in having the best staff ever assembled at Trinity High School. Our administrative team is great. We have the best student body ever. This has been a year of gladness. With all of the achievements this year, we must not forget tomorrow. Even as we look at those goals and objectives which we failed to achieve this year, we may cheer up as we think of tomorrow, and the opportunities of another year. J. Rayford Coggins

IS THERE LIFE AFTER HIGH SCHOOL?

Everyone knows that we can't stay in high school forever. The Question is, "What will we do after high school?" Our guidance counselors help us in finding the answer. After high school we all drift our separate ways and enter different walks of life. Whatever we decide to do after high school, we credit Linda Kennerly, Pat Mills, and Beverly Carrigan for helping us make the BIG decision. For this help, we owe a great deal of thanks to these ladies.

Two of the men at our school with a big job are Paul Barnes and Trenton Lowe. Coach Barnes is our athletic director and Mr. Lowe is our bus co-ordinator. There is a great deal of responsibility that goes along with these titles and we'll always remember these two for the great job they did.

By seeing the rifle squad displaying their talents, by hearing the band and chorus perform, by watching a drama production taking place, and by admiring the art produced by the art classes, one can tell that Cultural Arts are important at our high school.

To teach a Cultural Art takes much patience and preparation. The teachers we have exhibit these qualities, and without them our Cultural Arts program here at Trinity would be impossible.

The Unacknowledged Workers

The people pictured on this page work as hard as anyone else around. The difference is their work is usually taken for granted.

Our janitorial staff does a terrific job. Our campus is a great deal brighter because of these people's efforts. Our deepest appreciation to these wonderful people.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

1980-81

Dedication and involvement describe the varsity cheerleaders. Many long, hard hours of practice, organizing, and work went into the squad.

The members of this year's squad consist of five seniors and four juniors. The girls worked hard during the summer with all-day practices during the months of June and July. During the month of August practices were everyday at 8:30 sharp.

They sold doughnuts in August to raise money for new uniforms which were finally worn on Homecoming. Other money-making projects were football pins and Homecoming buttons. Let's hear it for the Varsity Cheerleaders!

Susan Andrews, Pamela Ewings (co-captain), Lynn Grubb, Jennifer Harris, Beth Henkel, DeAnn Hobson, Sandy Lassiter, Latefa Morgan, and Sandie Vinson (co-captain).

T'WAS A HARD KNOCK LIFE

Lisa Hayworth: Editor, puts heart and soul into the '80-'81 Trinhian.

Annette Spinks: Co-editor, and Lynn Grubb discuss "serious" annual matters. OOPS! Another mistake.

In the steaming days of summer, a student could not be dragged onto the campus. Unfortunately Lisa Hayworth, Annette Spinks and Lisa Stunda were struck dumb by the sun and were at Trinity High with Mr. Gamble secretly choosing the cover and colors for the '80-'81 Trinhian.

Then, with a little persuasion, the other staff members gave up some of their free time to sell the required eight ads. Much work went into phone calls to businesses, and visitations to these places, but one couldn't breath a sigh of relief until the check for the ad was in his possession. This money is used to pay for the vividly colored pages, the cost of photographs to illustrate past memories, and repay the large debt that was laid on our shoulders from the years past.

August arrived adding homework to the many hours of yearbook struggles. Meetings with Mr. Waters and long nights of strenuous mind workouts occupied many months of the staff's calendars. Deadlines were sweated over, headlines and articles were created and layouts were debated on. The photographers—Rusty Crenshaw, Russell Doane, Jeff Gunter and Angie Davis also labored on a camera putting works of art and expressions onto rolls of film.

Along with the fun also came sticky situations. When the cover came back with the wrong colors, the color pages were due before the homecoming game and staff members dropped foreign objects into one of the school's best typewriters; it took courage and stamina to keep marching on. But despite these little technicalities, the annual was mailed off.

The judgement day came when approximately 950 shinny, new annuals arrived. Setting eyes on a year's work made us feel like proud parents with a new born babe. Handing them out to anxious student body put lumps in the throats of the staff members as a part of you is becoming someone else's memories.

OOPS! Another mistake.

Many long evenings were spent meeting the deadlines by Carmen Holt, Elissa Huffines, San San Burton, and Pat Vestal.

Art editor, Mark Dobbins: A picture paints a thousand words.

Advisor Mr. Hayes, Mr. Phillips, and Mr. Gamble are caught planning secret torture tactics on the staff if the deadline is not met.

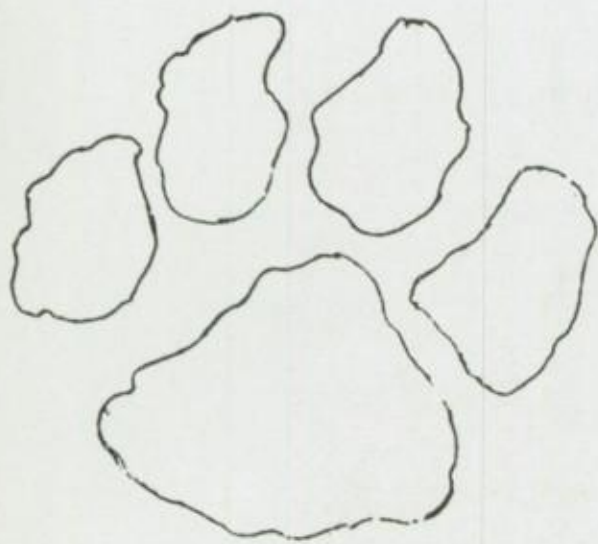

BULLDOGS in Action!

Some downfalls . . .

Some smiles.

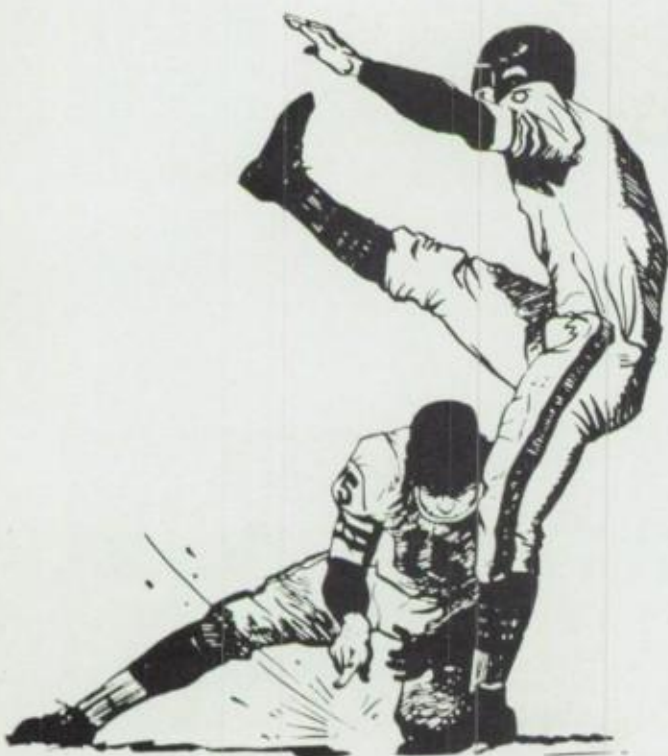

T.H.S. Males Deserve A Hand

Echoing through the locker room is a unison of men's voices expressing their goal of beating the opposing team. The preparation for a night of competition included many hot summer days and chilly afternoons of strenuous practices. From sprints to sit-ups the men gritted their teeth and accepted the responsibility of representing Trinity High School on the playing field.

The team got off to a rip-roaring start but because of hard luck, problems arose. Injuries plagued the members along with a few disagreements between the coaches and the players. Fortunately hurts from both accounts healed and the team became whole in mind and spirit.

So let's give a cheer for the great guys of T.H.S. and the coaching staff led by Harold Smith! Thanks for giving us school pride and a reason to hold our heads high and declare "We're from Trinity and couldn't be prouder!"

Our BULLDOGS spell determination.

HOMECOMING 1980

DANCE CAPS OFF EVENTS for HOMECOMING WEEK

Mark Dobbins

Homecoming week at Trinity High School was filled with thrills, chills, spills, crashes, costumes, flags, funerals, floats, a pep rally, football game and ending with the "Sadie Hawkins Homecoming Dance" in the cafeteria.

Events for the week, planned by the Student Council, started with the students dressing as if they were living in the 1950's. Tuesday was flag day. Arrangements were made with the military to be present to supervise the burning of the old tattered flag and to raise a new one presented to the school by the Archdale-Trinity Pilot Club. Alma Warner presented the new flag to Student Council President, Debra West.

Wednesday was mourning the time for the Asheboro Comets. Students dressed in black and the morning break saw a burial ceremony for the Comets in the center of our campus. A favorite day was Thursday as students were allowed to take out their frustrations on a old car. Rounding out the week was a day filled with comic strip characters.

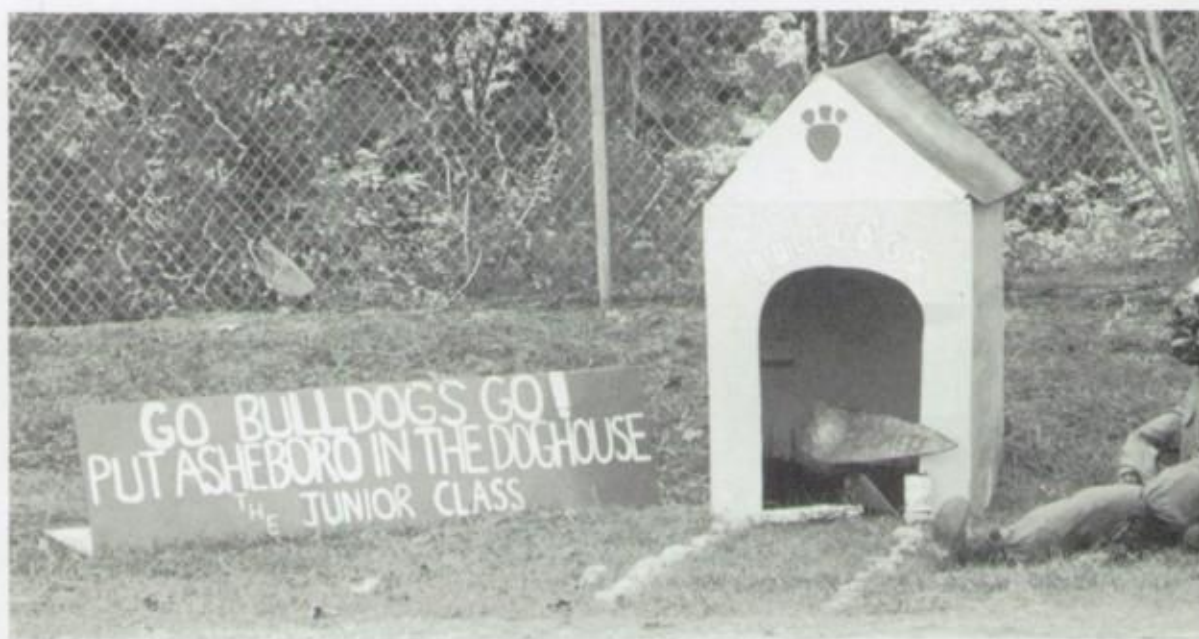

Class and club displays were placed around the football field Friday morning to be judged at noon. Winning displays were juniors in the class category and Future Farmers of America in the club category.

The student body went to the stadium for a pep rally in the afternoon. Main events were sack races, and an egg carrying contest, "Chug-a-lug" and skits. Winning the pig kissing contest was Danny Johnson, chemistry teacher. True school spirit was exhibited as Johnson tenderly kissed the pig. The victory bell was presented to the school by the cheerleaders and the BOSS Club.

Half-time festivities were highlighted by the crowning of the 1980 Trinity Homecoming Queen. Winning as class representatives were: Freshman Kim

From August to October, Trinity High School's girl volleyball players were found in the gym everyday after school. They accepted the long hours of running, jumping, squatting, hitting, and bending. Their hard work was shown in many matches. In some, they withstood the agony of defeat—others, the joys of triumph prevailed.

J.V. GIRLS STRONG IN SCHOOL SPIRIT

Linda Harrell, Jessica Hill, Ginger Bowman, Tabatha Clampitt, Laura Slack, Cheryl Parris, Coach Jayn Cox, Carmen Holt, Lisa Foster, Debbie Brown, Abbie Swift, Pam Call, Pam Stepp, Varonda Rorie, Karen Poole, Tracy Griffith

The 1980-81 Junior Varsity basketball season opened in late November after tryouts and practice under the direction of Jayn Cox. Several members of the '79-80 team returned for the season. This squad, being a very energetic and defensive minded team, looked forward to a successful year. The Lady Bulldogs provided an exciting season for the local fans. Key players for the Jayvees were Laura Slack, Varonda Rorie, Abbie Swift, and Karen Poole.

BOYS' J.V. BASKETBALL EXCITING

Trinity Junior Varsity basketball coach, David Hooks, with a talented squad played many exciting games this year. The Jayvee Bulldogs, playing the same schedule as the Varsity, used a lot of hustle and an unselfish style of basketball to bring pride to themselves and to the school. Scoring honors went to J.D. Peace and David Barnes.

Members engaged in after school and Saturday practices. Having gained experience through their second season at THS, Jayvee prospects looked good for next year's Varsity team. Returning Varsity players and Jayvees set their goal at upholding the spirit and spunk of Fighting Bulldogs of Basketball.

ALLMON'S GIRLS ARE ALRIGHT!

The Lady Bulldogs worked hard during 1980-81 to have a successful basketball season. Since November, to make winners out of themselves, team members drilled, organized, and planned offensive and defensive plays in order. Success to them meant hard work, determination, and self-confidence. The girls set two goals at the beginning of their season: 1. to go to the finals of the conference and 2. to go to the District. Throughout the season, these girls have learned how to accept defeat and how to appreciate victory.

There were three young ladies who the team depended upon who were not players. These girls were Penny McKinzee, Rita Stratton, and Beverly Peace who served as dependable managers.

During the season some games were won, others were lost by a narrow margin. Although the record didn't show a winning season, it was successful for the "Alright Allmons."

Co-Captains were Arrow Smith, Beth Bowling, Leecia Roberts, and Sandy Grubb. These girls along with all the other members of the team supported Coach Terry Allmon to the fullest.

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL NETS VICTORIES

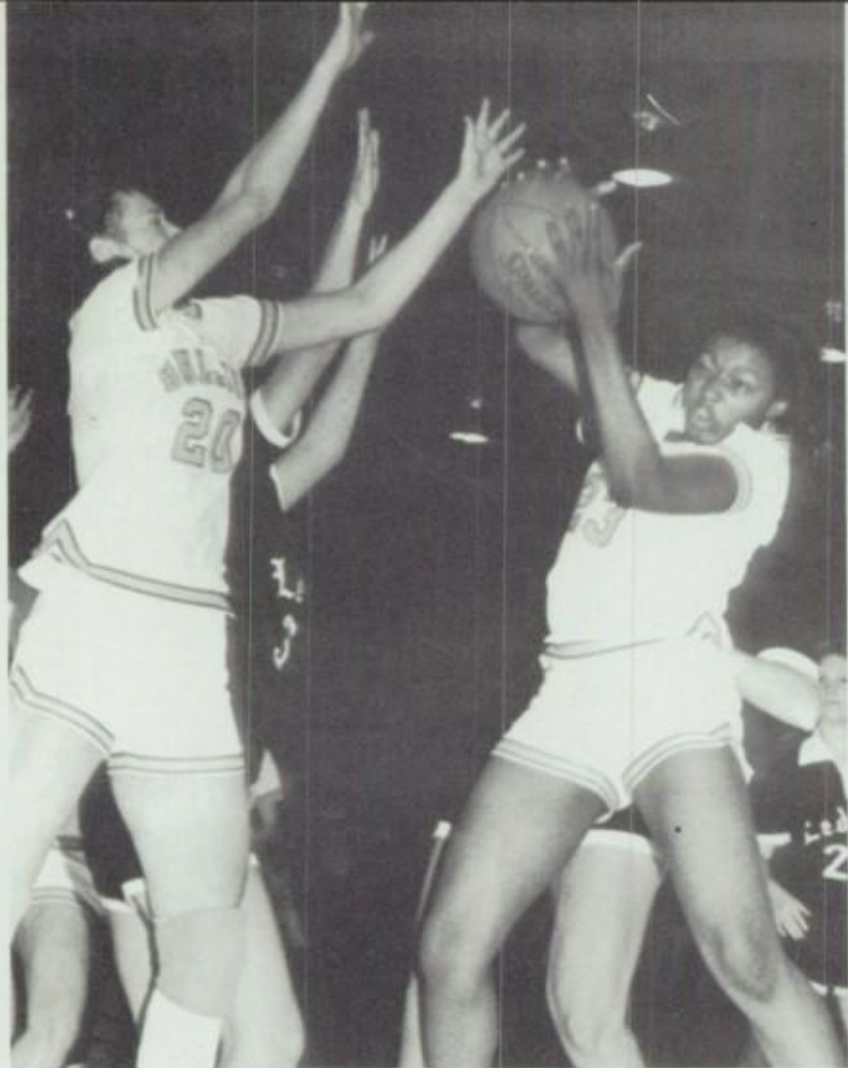

The 1980-81 boys' varsity basketball team at Trinity High produced many exciting moments for Trinity fans. Under the leadership of the seniors and co-captains, Mark Barnes, Wayne Rush, and Todd Armstrong, the team experienced more wins than in years past. They were very fortunate to acquire Jimmy Burchette as their coach. The first year coach has brought a positive attitude and a great desire to win to Trinity High, and it has spread to his players. J.C. Hollinger became manager during the season proving himself a very valuable asset. These new assets of the team and Coach Burchette led the team to a good season with a great deal of promise for the future. Trinity basketball is on the upward swing. Students, faculty, and the community can look forward to an exciting and successful basketball program in the future.

Conita McDowell was chosen chairman of the Arts Department for the State Juniores.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION RECEIVED

NEW MISS TRINITY CROWNED

"Vacation Bound" was the theme of the 1980 Miss Trinity Pageant. Using this theme the 19 girls made their presentations in sports clothes and evening wear in competition for the title of Miss Trinity, 1980. In their sports clothes, they paraded in everything from tennis shorts and rompers to skirts and blouses. In their evening wear, they were dressed in their frilliest and fanciest gowns. In between the girls appearances, there was much exciting and amusing talent. These included Pam Ridge reading "Promises, Promises", Angie Crater singing "The Rose", Rusty Crenshaw singing "Corner of The Sky", Beth Henkel performing acrobatics, Ronnie Lambert playing "Pearl of Great Price" and the Chrous and Gamboliers singing.

The five semi-finalist of the Miss Trinity pageant were then announced. They were Beth Henkel, Susan Towery, Sharon Rodden, Joetta Moore, and Sonya Williams. The nineteen girls who competed for the coveted title included Lorri Wall, Beth Henkel, Sonya Williams, Kim Hill, Angel Dumbloski, Debbie Olson, Becky Stevens, Susan Stunda, Tamara Hill, Jennifer Harris, Abbie McLean, Susan Towery, Daphne Benton, Wendy Hazelton, Sharon Rodden, Teresa Marshburn, Donna Morton, Joetta Moore, and Belinda Ransom.

Rhonda Hardin, 1979 Miss Trinity, crowned Joetta Moore as "Miss Trinity 1980."

The five finalist were Beth Henkel, Sonya Williams, Sharon Rodden, Susan Towery, and Joetta Moore.

JUNIORS MAKE

A student's junior year is a year of being thankful that you are no longer a freshman or sophomore. It is one of anticipation and dreaming of being a senior, with many times "Wait till next year" being said.

Even though many students of the Class of 1982 wanted to be seniors, they still took pride in being juniors. At pep rallies "Juniors, Juniors!" echoed throughout the gymnasium. The Junior Class was so vocal that it finished secondly a numerous amount of times in the battle for the "Spirit Stick."

The Junior Class also took much pride in winning first prize in the class float competition during Homecoming Week. With the help of Patricia Aldridge, Linda Butler, Danny Johnson, and Pat Wagoner, the Junior Class broke the tradition of finishing second to "you know who."

Many hours went into organizing and selling candy for the Junior/Senior Prom. It was the Juniors' responsibility to make the 1981 Prom a financial success. Thanks to the hard work and dedication of the juniors, their goal was achieved.

This year, the juniors took pride in themselves and the school. Their dreams of "wait till next year" are almost here. It is almost time for the Class of 1982 to quit being followers and become the leaders of Trinity High School. And what a job they'll do!

JUNIORS EXPRESS THEIR OPINION ON WHO IS NUMBER ONE!

To Anita Plumley and Marty Grainger, talking is more important than lunch.

TRINITY STUDENTS REMEMBER KIM

Kimberly Ann Mabe
July 20, 1964-July 21, 1980

Kim was killed in a car accident on Monday, July 21, 1980. Kim was a member of the Class of 1982 and she was active in the Anchor Club and Keyette Club. She was a caring and dependable person. We at Trinity shall always remember her smiling face and pleasant disposition. Kim was interested in writing poetry. Below is her own composition about her dog, Pepper.

PEPPER

She runs in the sun and has so much fun
She sits in the shade when the day is done

She rests when she wants
But she is the one
For she runs o'er the yard
And she has so much hair
But she'll stand tall

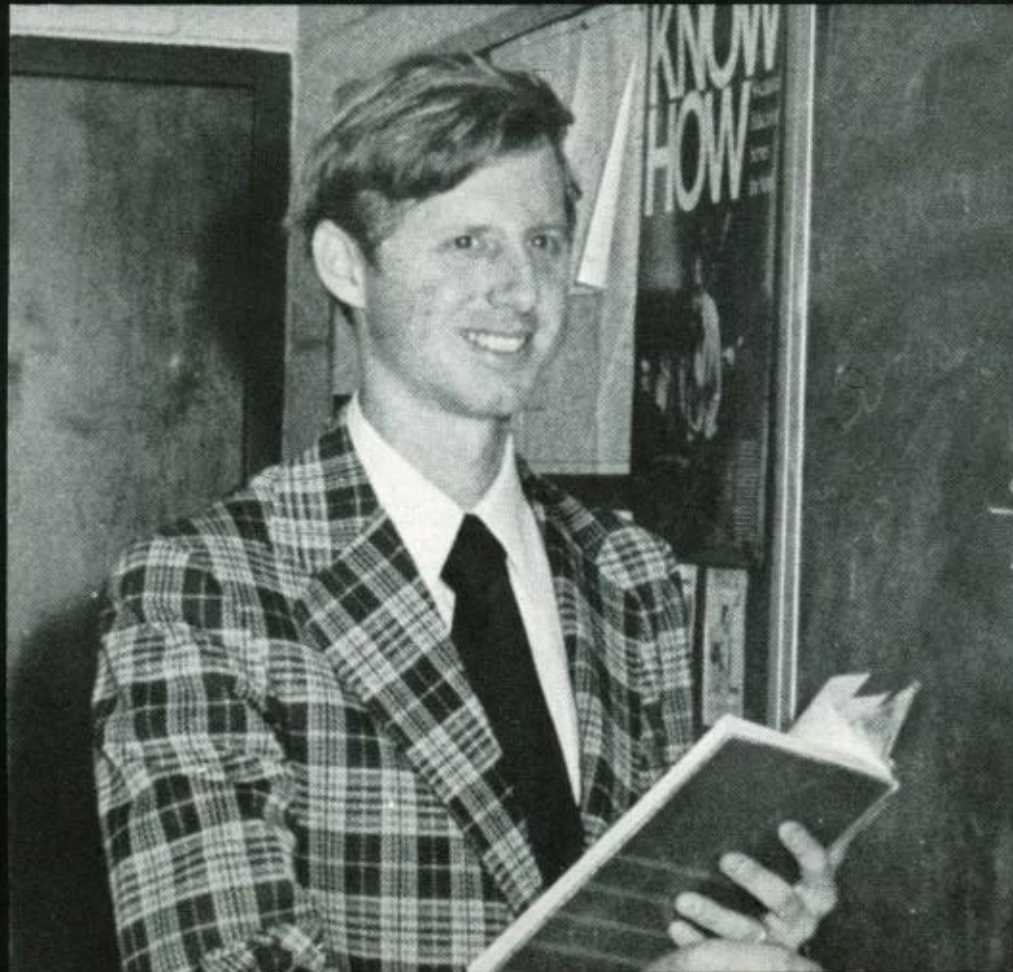

and has not many chores
that you'll most adore
her ears, they do flop
just like a fuzzy, black mop and proud in spite of her fears

But then we'll shed tears, when this love in our heart is gone
For you see, there's only one that's been with us for so long.

RAY CARTER SINK

CONGRATULATIONS CHAMPS!

From the beginning of Trinity High School's Wrestling program in 1974, the team has progressed from a 15-4 season to state champions in 1980. This outstanding achievement came about through the combined efforts of many hardworking young men led by a superb and dedicated coach—Harold Smith. During the past five years the team has compiled an impressive record of sixty-seven wins and five losses. Many long hours of physical strain and exertion were necessary to accomplish this fantastic record.

As the 1980 season progressed, it became obvious that this was no average team. After total domination of the South Piedmont Conference, a much determined coach and thirteen enthusiastic teammates were determined to be nothing less than state champs.

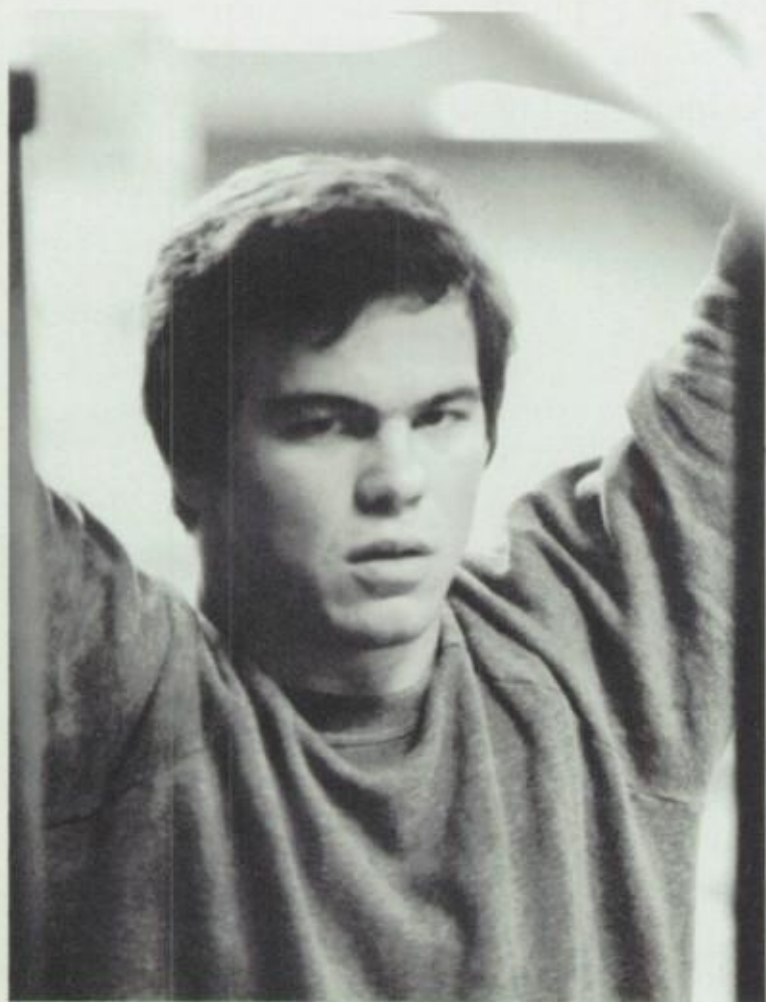

Competition became more and more awesome as the team became winners of sectional and regional tournaments. Pushed by co-captains, Jim Stepp and Devon Taylor, six teammates prepared for their final contest. These were: David Moon, Scott Brinkley, Bobby Hill, Todd Harrison, John Stepp, and Jim Stepp.

As the final buzzer sounded, Todd Harrison was in fourth place, John Stepp was in second, Jim Stepp in first and Harold Smith, coach of the 1980 North Carolina State Wrestling Champions.

PREPARING

The J.V. Wrestling team is a vital part in the success of our varsity team. Although considered Junior Varsity, these wrestlers have shown much talent and skill in victories over J.V. and Varsity opponents. This success is attributed to a truly outstanding coach who takes much pride in these young men—Jerry Winnett.

1981 VARSITY WRESTLERS

This year's wrestling team can be nothing less than excellent. Led by Coach Harold Smith and assistant Coach Jerry Winnett, the 1981 team was under the best leadership in the state. Sparking the team were eight all-conference Varsity wrestlers ignited by co-captains Todd Harrison and John Stepp.

At publication deadlines the squad seemed to be well on their way to sustaining the goals achieved by the 1980 team. Will they be State Champions again?

BULLDOG PRIDE

OH, THOSE SORE MUSCLES!

1980-81 J.V.

CHEERLEADERS

Bulldog Pride! Sometimes that is much easier said than done. Thus, the primary goal of the J.V. cheerleaders this year was not only to raise pride and maintain school spirit, but to also take pride in themselves.

Cheerleader pride didn't come easy. The J.V.'s got off to a rough start this year because they didn't have a sponsor. Every group needs a leader and cheerleading is no exception. With the leadership provided by Angela Hendrix and Donna Snyder, the J.V.'s rapidly became one of the best squads in our conference. A fantastic sponsor became available. This person was "Blaze" Hayes, a new faculty member this year.

The 1980-81 Junior Varsity Cheerleaders set an example for all to follow. There was much more to their cheerleading than just cheerleading. They proved to all of us that we must have three responsibilities ... to ourselves, to the teams and to the student body.

Co-Head Cheerleaders: Angela Hendrix, Donna Snyder

DUEL DRUM MAJORS

Serving as a leader for 130 high school students requires a great deal of hard work and determination. Myra Kennedy and Kay Kennedy have proven this through their efforts as Drum Majors for the Blue Crew.

After serving as a strong member of the award-winning rifle line for three years, Myra was chosen for the position of Drum Major. She has also played the clarinet, alto clarinet, and bass clarinet during her years in band. She was also a member of the Randolph County All-County Band.

Following two years of marching experiences in the woodwind section, Kay served as Drum Major in her junior year. She again exhibited her abilities by serving as Drum Major in her Senior year. She has also played the saxophone in the concert band during her musical experience here.

Strong leadership is an important element in any organized group. Myra and Kay have proven that they possess this quality of leadership.

WITCHER, FURR, RUSSELL ARE GUARD CAPTAINS

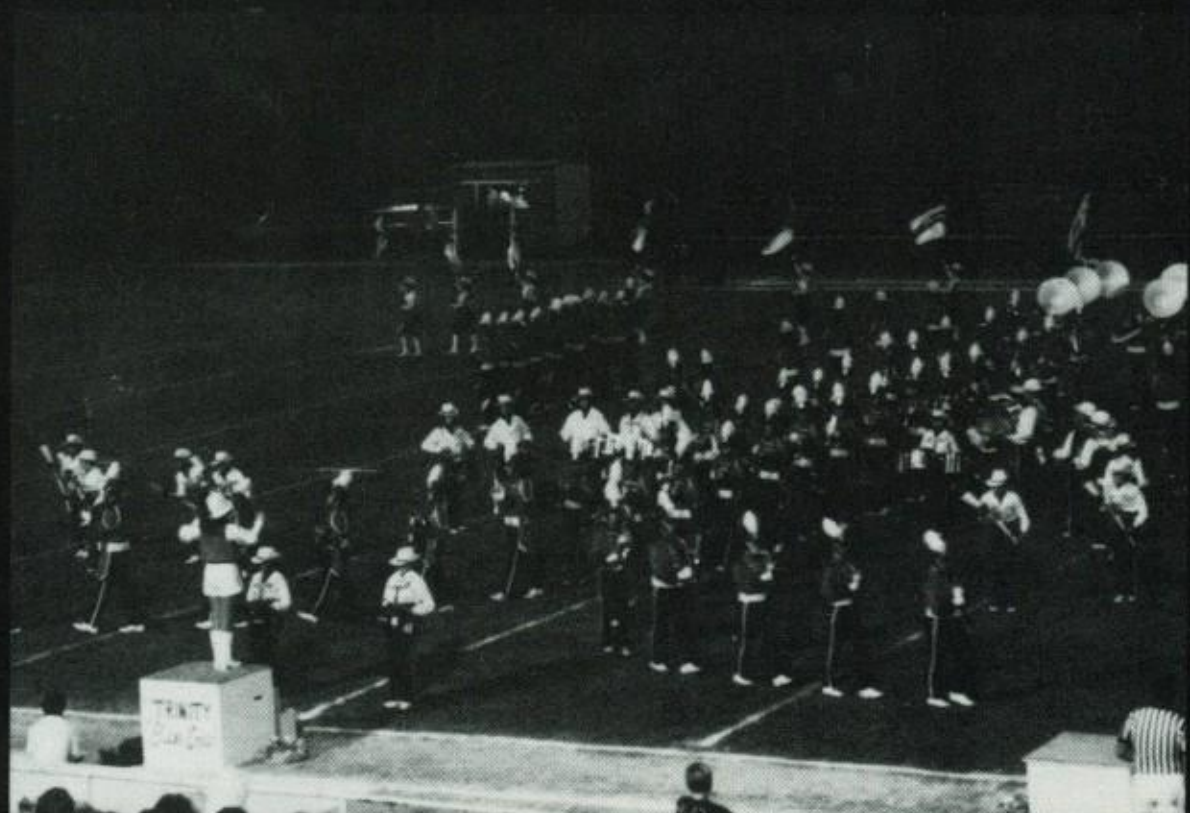

Leading the colorguard requires a great deal of skill, dedication and patience. The captains must begin their job in early spring when many eager students wish to try out for the award-winning flag and rifle lines. Selected to be captains for the Blue Crew is Lisa Witcher—rifle, Kathy Furr and Pam Russell—flags.

Lisa Witcher, Senior rifle, worked her way to captain the blood, sweat, and skill route. Her endurance, self-discipline, and creative abilities were thoroughly tested during the three years prior to becoming chief. The responsibilities of training a "green" rifle line requires all the experience one can obtain. Lisa handled her job superbly.

Kathy Furr is also a veteran guard member. She has three years experience prior to becoming a flag line captain. Kathy's unique ability to get things done is an asset when the pressure is on. She has learned through the years to watch for the little things that should be polished before a performance can be judged as competitive.

Pam Russell was the first Junior to be selected as a flag line captain. Pam was selected primarily for her innovative and creative abilities. She handles her equipment superbly and challenges other members to work harder to develop their skill.

Collectively, there captains are superior leaders and a valuable asset to our marching band!

130 MEMBERS STRONG

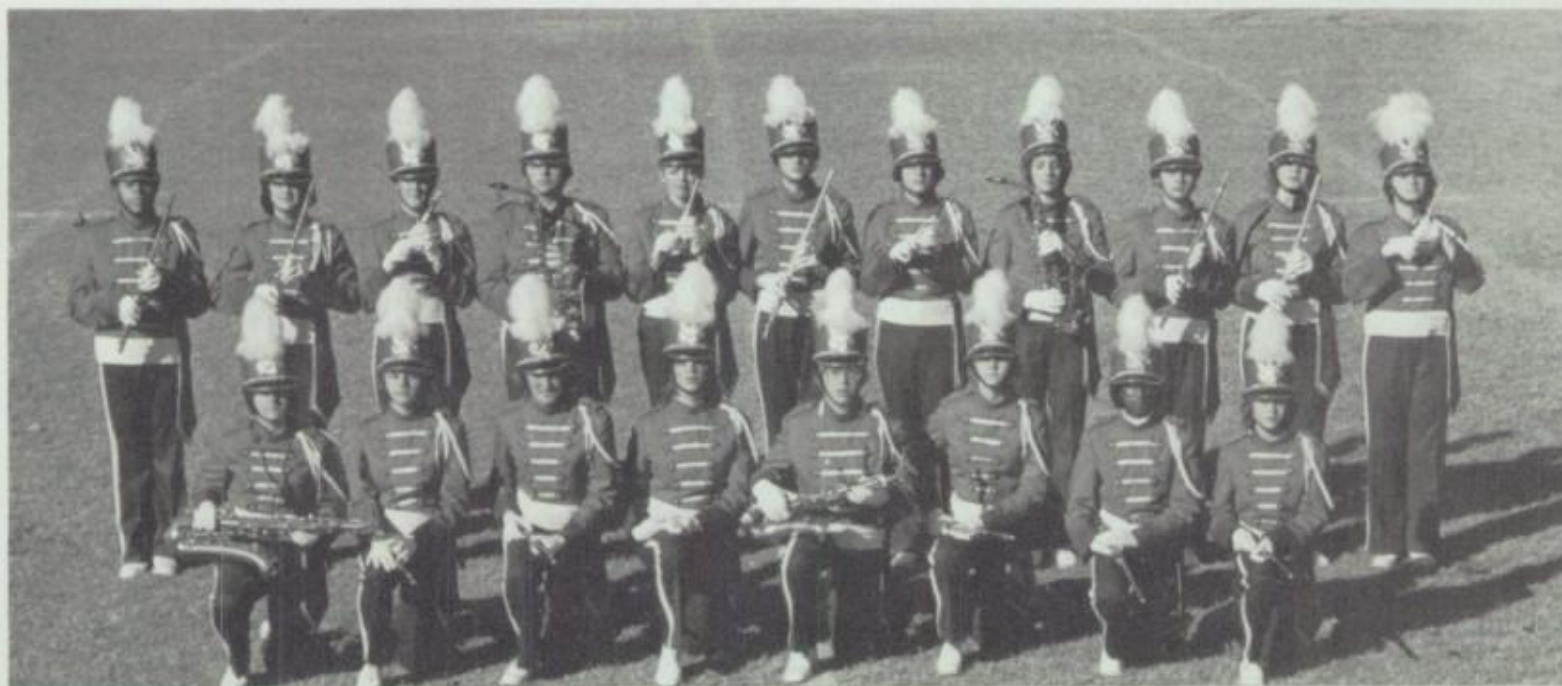

One hundred and thirty members strong, the BLUE CREW again marched toward perfection: One must realize, however, that with one of these members absent the degree of perfection could never be up to par.

Each member of the BLUE CREW is an essential element in a seven minute field show. The practice for this short exhibition begins around the first of the year and lasts until the end of the football season in October. Every person must be present and attentive or the effort becomes a failure.

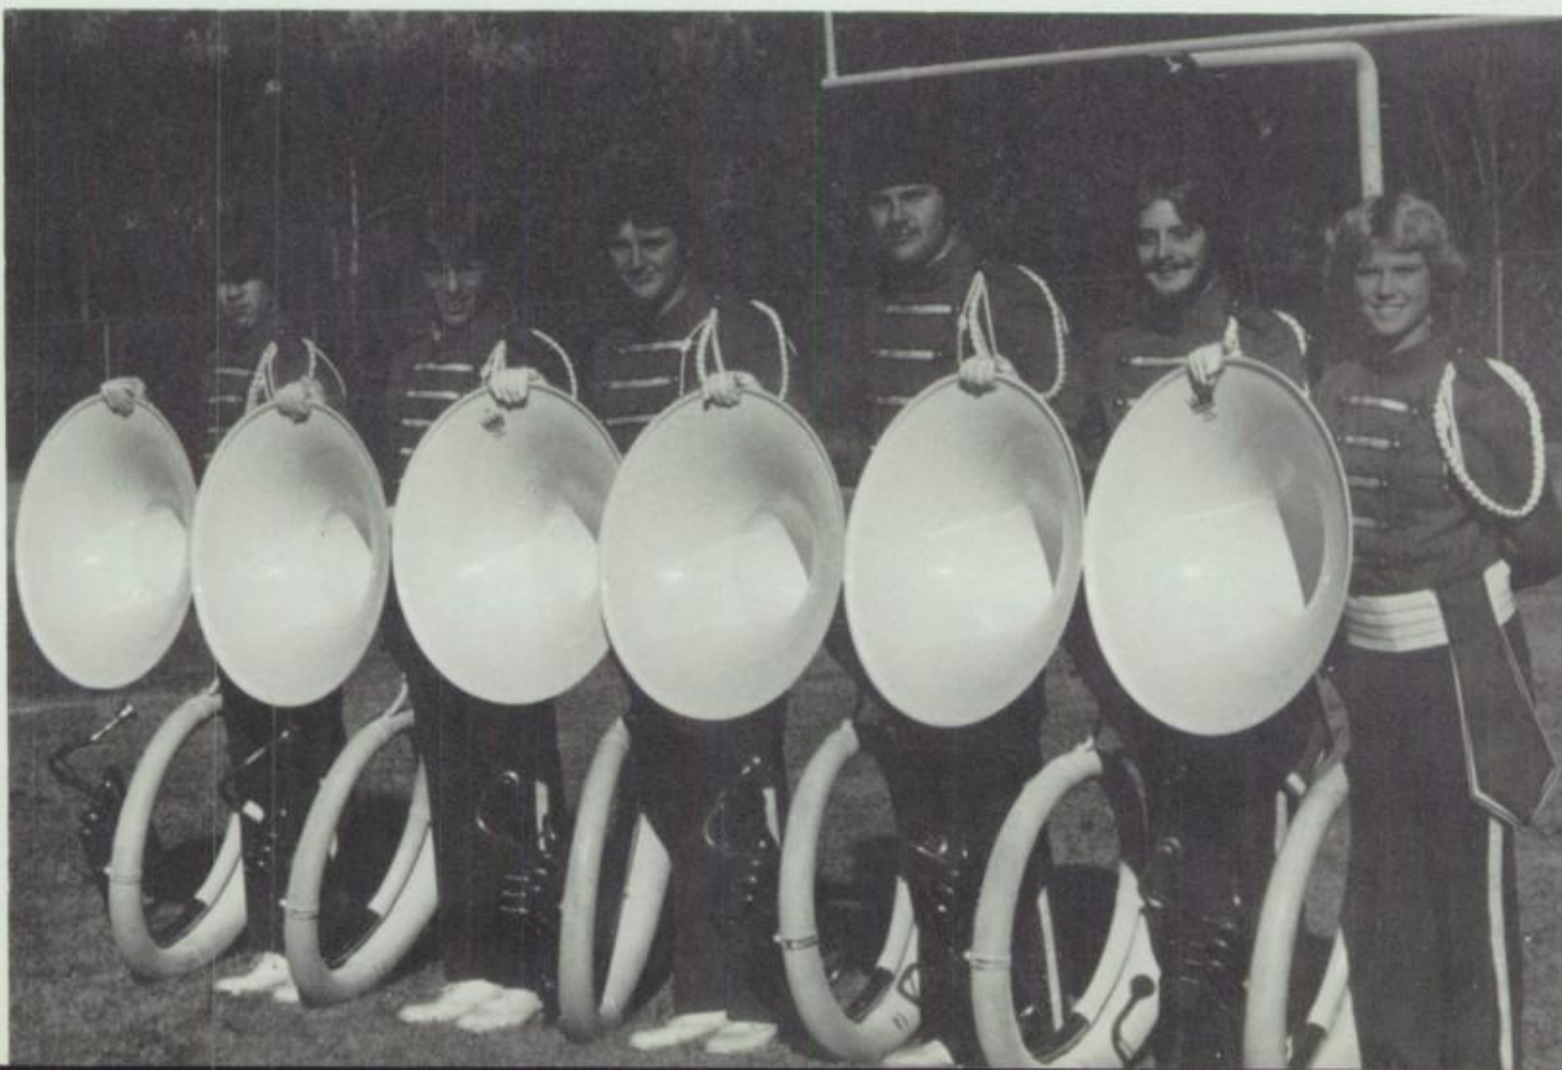

For the senior members of the BLUE CREW this year has been one they will always remember and cherish. For those who will be returning, next year will be another year of hard work towards the perfection of the BLUE CREW.

SULLIVAN AND GAMBLE HONORED

Two members of our faculty have received special recognition for their outstanding creativity and innovation in teaching.

Judy Sullivan, language arts teacher, has been nominated by the faculty for Teacher of the Year. Along with teaching, Mrs. Sullivan also serves as Student Council advisor, where she spends much of her time trying to make our student body one of the best.

Joe Gamble, assistant principal, has been nominated for the Terry Sanford Award. For the past 12 years Gamble has developed our choral department into one of the best in the state. He alone is responsible for letting students participate in a musical each spring.

WEST CHOSEN STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT

This organization maintains and strives for two goals: to keep the students at Trinity High School interested in attending school and to help take out the boredom that accompanies a day to day routine.

The Student Council is a group of elected students who are willing to shoulder any responsibilities thrust on them by their fellow classmates.

Some of their morale building activities include a football homecoming week, a Christmas talent show, and an annual Valentine's Dance.

Lead by Debra West, these fine few make life at Trinity High School a little easier.

BETA TAPPING IS SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

Beta Club President, Latefa Morgan, relaxes after the assembly.

October 8, 1980 was not an usual day for some of the people at Trinity High School.

During second period, selected students became new members of the Trinity High School Beta Club. These students were chosen for their high academic achievements. To begin the assembly, our choral group, under the direction of Mrs. Cheryl Burley, performed "Brighten Up My Soul." Mr. Gamble sang "We Have This Moment" and Rusty Crenshaw sang the Beta Club song. The guest speaker of the assembly was Mr. Ralph Eanes, preacher of the Archdale United Methodist Church. He tactfully used characters from comic strips as parody in his speech dealing with a better way of living.

The students to be tapped were called down from the bleachers by club president, Latefa Morgan. Old Beta members tapped in the new members by giving each of them a white candle. Parents of those to be tapped were invited to attend the ceremony. Afterwards, refreshments were to served to all Beta Club members as well as to the parents of the new members.

Rusty Crenshaw, a Trinity High School senior, sings the Beta Club Song as a part of the ceremony.

SCHOOL SPIRIT AT ITS BEST

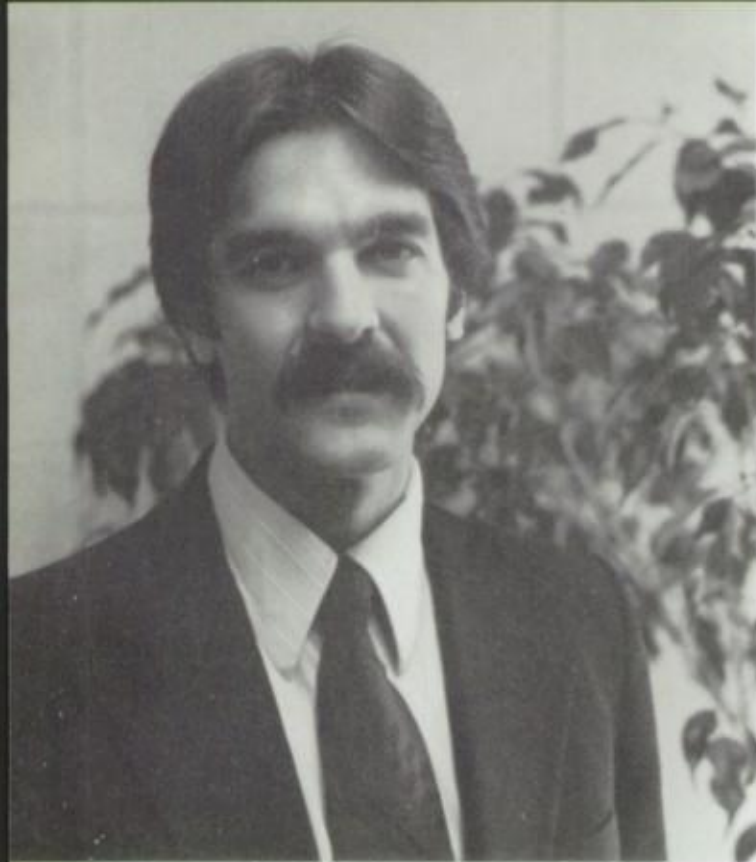

The Boss Club is made up of students whose main interest is seeing that others support all school events and activities. During the year, The group co-sponsored the "VICTORY BELL" for use at the football games. Concern for a good-looking, well-groomed campus occupied much time.

Tammy Cheré, young religious recording artist presented a concert which the Boss Club co-sponsored.

Rusty Crenshaw has served as president three years. His leadership inspired others to be enthusiastic and face life with a smile.

HEALTH OCCUPATIONS STUDENTS OF AMERICA

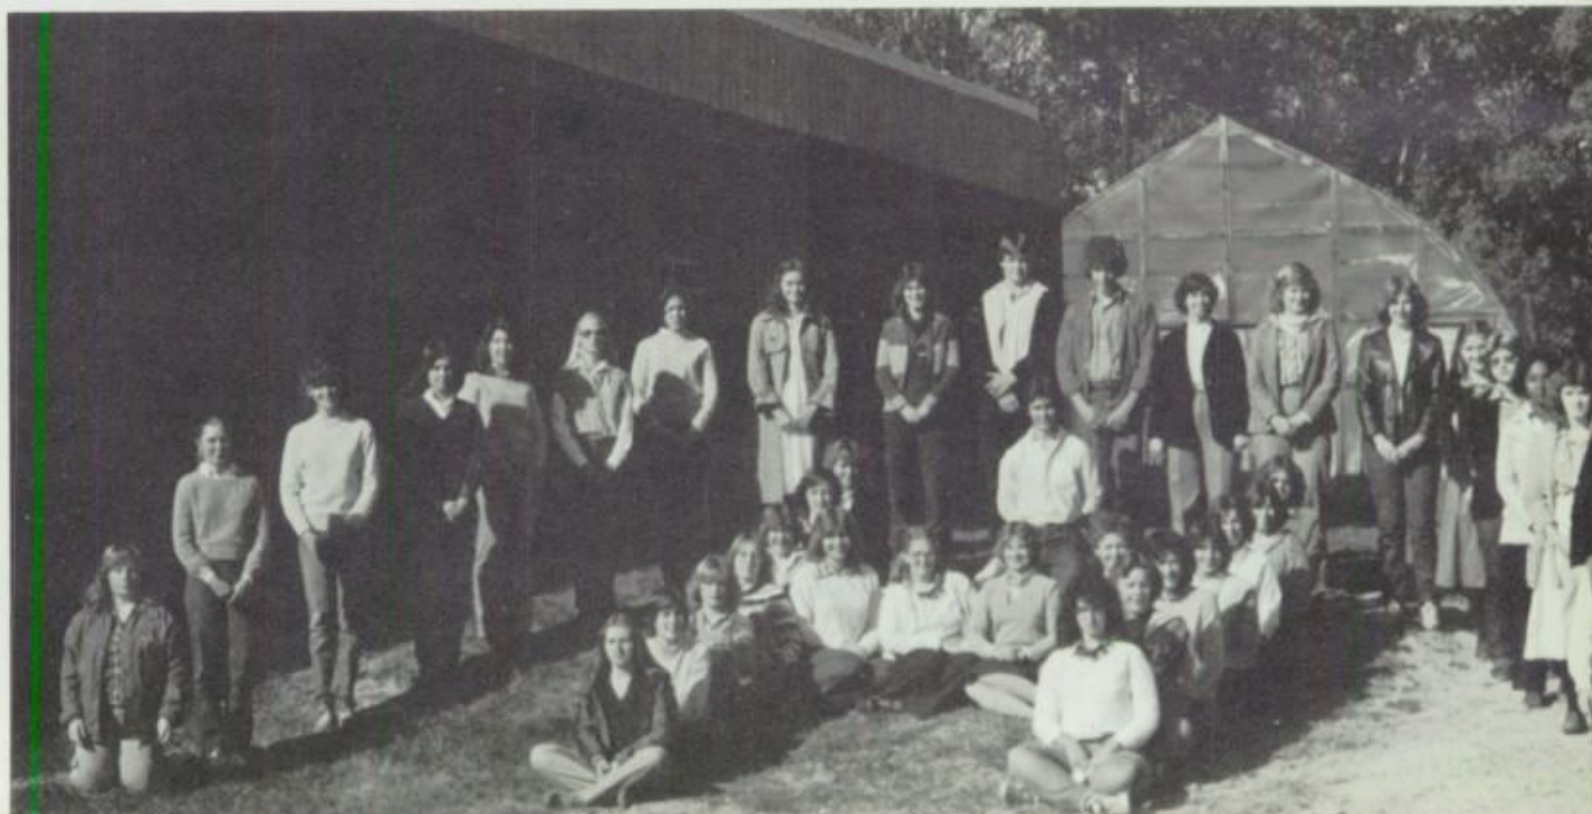

The HOSA membership is made up of students who are enrolled in a Health Occupations Education class. The purpose of HOSA is to bring together young people who are interested in health careers and who desire leadership development.

In the 1980-81 school year HOSA members enjoyed a cookout at Creekside Park. The club provided curtains for the Health Occupations Education classroom and planted pansies in HOSA's ground beautification area of the school campus. Eleven students attended the District Leadership Workshop which was held at Weaver Education Center in Greensboro. Other activities included an Installation of Officers Banquet, a service project at Christmas for a needy family, participating in competitive events at District Rally, and a spring banquet. This year HOSA sponsored a bloodmobile and a health fair at Trinity High School. The club also sponsored a display in the library during National HOSA week.

HOSA attended the health fair at Chapel Hill which was sponsored by the North Carolina Memorial Hospital Association and State Congress in Raleigh.

JUNIORETTES . . . DIVISION OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The Lady Bulldog Club of Trinity High School is comprised of approximately 50 members this year. It is a strong, eager, and respectable club. Their services to the school, community, and state are countless. The Junioresettes of 1980-81 contributed in projects including: Visiting a Thomasville nursing home every month to give them birthday parties, selling silk mums and spirit fuzzies during Homecoming Week, giving Special Education classes at the elementary schools a Christmas party, Christmas caroling to elderly people in the surrounding area, giving Thanksgiving favors to the children in the High Point Hospital, having an "Awareness Week" to conserve energy, and collecting stamps for children across seas. The members of the Lady Bulldog Junioresette Club work constantly trying to make their club the best ever.

Sponsor—Mr. Hayes

Key Club Officers: President: Scott Bundy; Vice-President: Jeff Rains; Secretary: Eric Drye; Treasurer: Scottie Carter

The Key Club functions as one of Trinity High School's most active service organizations. Members are selected by the club with the approval of Mrs. Landis and Mr. Hayes, Club sponsors. The club attempts to provide assistance wherever help is needed. During the 1980-81 school year, the club participated in a "CROP" run for hunger marathon, distributed candy at Halloween to Resource Education students, parked cars at home football games and made tapes of History and Science units available for use by all Trinity High students. The Key Club is also planning to improve one aspect of the football stadium, the gymnasium, or the school during late spring.

With much pride, the Key Club is setting an example of initiative and leadership, providing students the experience of living and working together preparing its members for useful citizenship, promoting high standards of scholarship, sportsmanship and social contact serving the school and the community. The 1980-81 Key Club has attempted to follow a policy of success through service.

TWENTY-TWO NEW KEYETTES

The Keyettes is a service club which offers its help to better its school and community. The Keyettes are sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of High Point.

In the 1980-81 year the Keyettes took in twenty-two members. The new recruits had to dress up as go-go girls as part of their initiation.

Their service projects consisted of selling football programs at all home football games. The keyettes play an important part in the Fall and Spring High Point Furniture Market by working for FURNITURE TODAY.

The Keyettes distributed carnations to all teachers during National Education Week. At Christmas, they made a visit to Mills Home in Thomasville and presented the children with stockings and games.

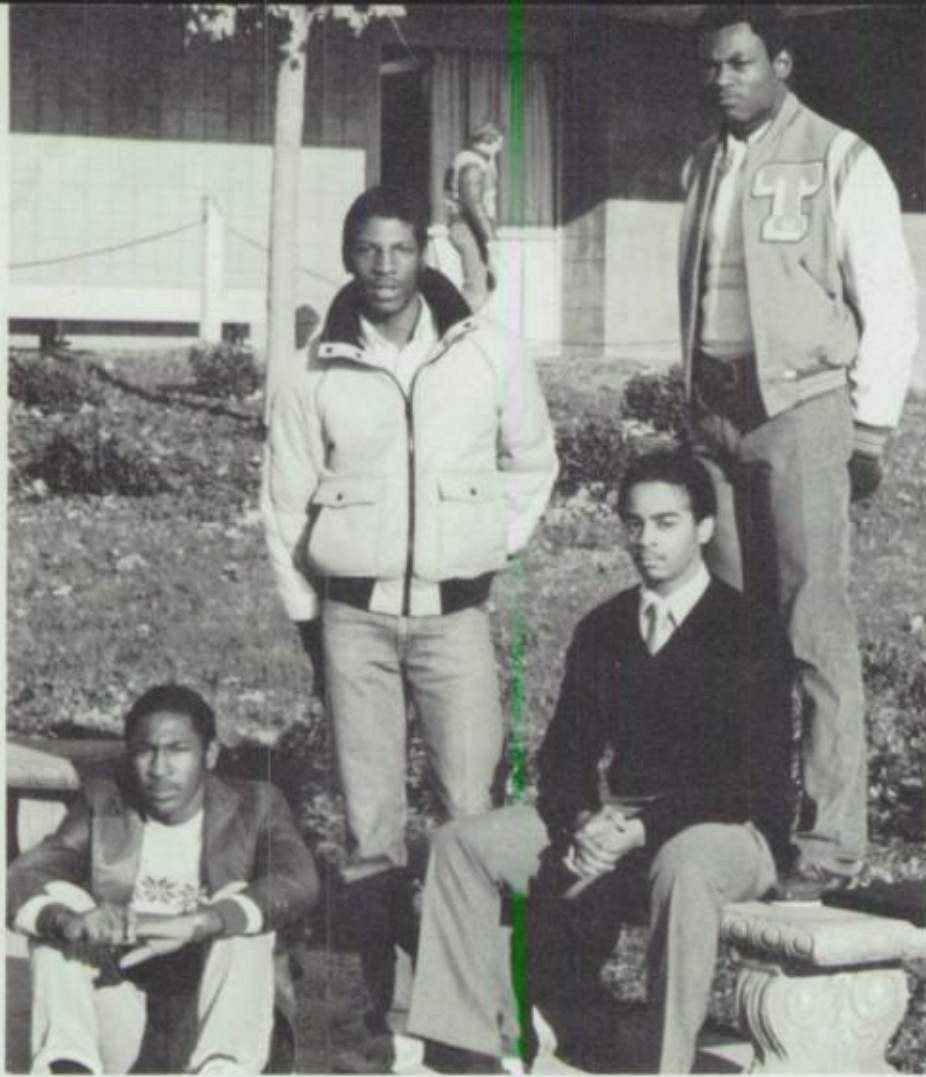

These events, among others, made 1980-81 an active year for the Keyettes of Trinity High School.

1980 LIBRARY CLUB OF TRINITY HIGH

The Library Club is a service club which tries to stimulate interest in reading. They performed services for students, teachers and the school. This year the Library Club planted shrubs and bulbs to help beautify the school grounds, added a bulletin board to the library for displaying art and student's work, and did storytelling at a Child Care Center. They also did production work such as: Laminating, dry mounting, and transparencies of classroom materials for teachers.

NFL—NATIONALLY KNOWN

The Trinity High School Debate and Speech Team has established itself as one of the best high school forensics squads in the Southeast. For the past two years in a row, the team has won the N.C. State Championship, and stands a very good chance of becoming the first team ever to win the title three years consecutively.

Hundreds of hours of hard work and extreme dedication are required to become a successful public speaker. The members of Trinity's debate and speech team have shown that they are willing to give this time and effort in order to make our debate and speech team the best around.

Participation in forensics is divided into three distinct categories. The first is classroom work. Students learn about the art and practices of public speaking in the class, just as they would learn about any other subject. The second area of participation is the club. All members of the debate and speech team must earn membership in the Trinity High School Chapter of the National Forensics League. The "NFL" is the official sanctioning body for all interscholastic forensic events. The third area of forensic participation is competition. Each year the debate and speech team travels approximately 8,000 miles to twenty tournaments all across the United States. This year the team will compete in such various locations as New York City, Atlanta, Salt Lake City, and many, many more. The expense of this travel is born by the students, thus showing an extra measure of dedication.

There is a rich tradition of success in Trinity High forensics. Over the past six years, our teams have won more than 400 trophies in competition in varsity debate, novice debate, Lincoln-Douglas debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, humorous and dramatic interpretation of literature, impromptu speaking, and student congress.

At the 1980 National Championship Tournament, seniors Sammy Hill and Randy Hill placed 8th and 11th nationally in impromptu speaking. This year, senior Lori Bryant leads the team with the distinction of having qualified for the national finals every year of her high school career.

Participation in debate and speech does indeed require substantial sacrifices, extreme dedication, and determination to achieve the goal of perfection. For THS, nothing less is quite acceptable!

VICA

VICA is made up of students enrolled in trade and industrial education at Trinity. Student learners in Industrial Cooperative Learning attend required classes in the morning and receive on-the-job training in the afternoons under actual working conditions. Trinity VICA has been in the top three in an Outstanding Club Contest at the state level for the past four years. Plans for this year included a homecoming float, fruit baskets to a nursing home, a needy family Christmas project and co-sponsoring Job Opportunities Day and the school bloodmobile. District contests were held in March and the State Leadership Conference was in April at Winston Salem.

FFA COMPETES IN CONTEST

This year the FFA placed first in the Homecoming float contest. They participated in 14 contests throughout the year and they also participated at the District FFA Contest.

FFA celebrated National FFA week in February. They held two cookouts and a parent/member banquet.

BLUE CREW—MISS TRINITY IN CHRISTMAS PARADE

RED LETTER DAYS IN AMERICA'S HISTORY

November 4, 1979 was the beginning of a long and laborious conflict between a lion and a mouse. The United States Embassy in Iran was seized by Iranian militants under the order of the Ayatollah Khomeini. During the first days it was assumed that it would soon end, but it continued: day 45, day 105, the numbers increased.

Because of neighboring citizens being held hostage, the United States joined together in an effort to support their fellow Americans. Several symbolic actions occurred: Yellow ribbons were tied on trees and posts along with the making of billboards, T-shirts, and bumper stickers that contained colorful messages to Iran. At Trinity High School, armbands were worn that read "Let Our People Go!" The families of the hostages and all Americans joined in prayer to bring their loved ones home safely.

In April, 1980, a positive act turned negative. An unsuccessful rescue attempt, due to faulty mechanics, resulted in the death of eight Americans. Again Americans joined together to mourn the loss of these courageous men.

November grew closer and so did the presidential election. Democratic President Jimmy Carter, who tried to restrain from campaigning until the hostages were released, waited as long as possible before joining his opponent, Republican Ronald Reagan, on the campaign trail. Both candidates were up against tough issues, especially the Iranian crisis.

November 4, 1980 was the 365th day of captivity in Iran and election day in America. The result of the election was a new president of the United States, Ronald Reagan.

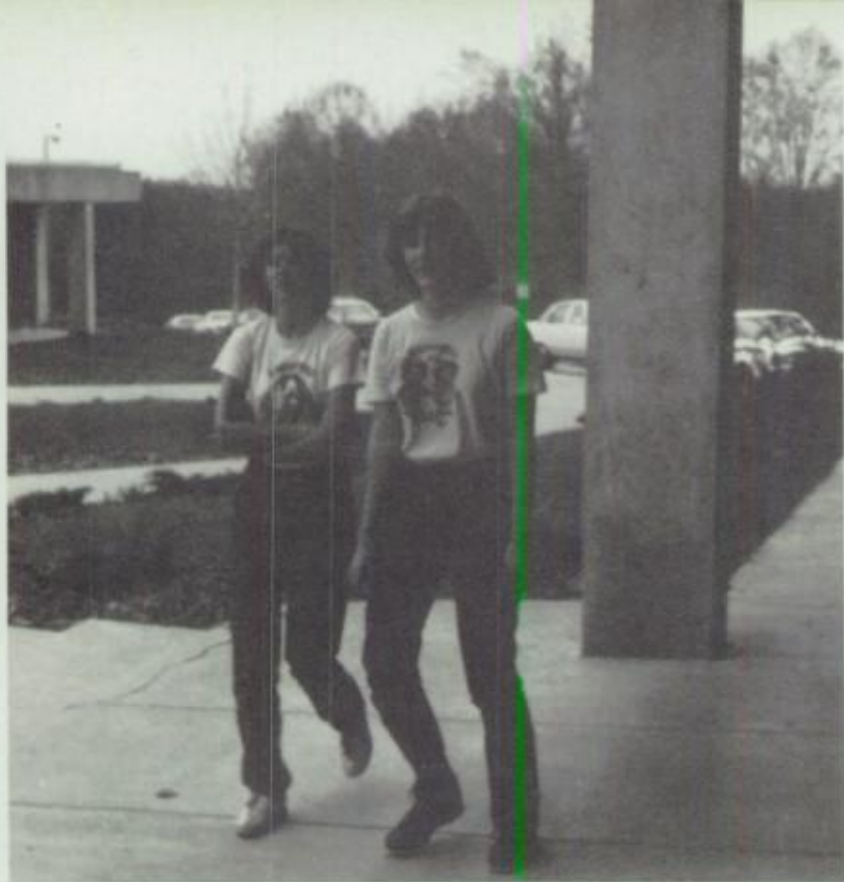

After the last hand of confetti was thrown for president-elect Reagan and the last tear shed for President Jimmy Carter, it was back to the White House and back to the issues. Iran still held our people and negotiations were going badly. Neither country would accept the other's terms.

Thanksgiving and Christmas passed with no change in the situation. Then, a week before the Presidential Inauguration, an agreement was made. It looked as though the hostages were coming home! But snags occurred, days passed with much uncertainty as to whether the 52 were going to be released after all.

January 20, 1981, Inauguration Day, approached and on this day it was known for sure that the Americans were leaving Iran. But would they make it out in time before Jimmy Carter's term was up at 12:00 noon? This was the big question. Unfortunately, as the new president of the United States was sworn into office the hostages were still on Iranian soil. Jimmy Carter had been cruelly denied the satisfaction of having them out of Iran while he was the official president. The news was torn between reporting the events of the Inauguration and broadcasting hostage happenings.

In honor of the hostages' departure from Iran, North Carolina Governor Jim Hunt declared January 21, 1981 a day of prayer and Thanksgiving for the hostages. Yellow ribbons shone brightly as did the smiles of all Americans for the return of our people.

A glance at the American flag shall never again be a mere image, but instead a symbol of unity, togetherness, and brotherly love. The American heritage is one to be proud of and admired by all.

ACCREDITATION 1980

David Spencer and Steve Lawrence

Preparing for Evaluation by the Southern Association Committee proved to be a team effort for all students and faculty. The "Annual Beautification Project" came just at the right time.

The team visited our campus on April 23rd and 24th 1980 for the ten year re-accreditation. Under the skillful direction of our co-chairman, Joe Gamble and Roy Allen, our principal, Rayford Coggins and our consultant, Roscoe Billings, the two day visitation was very enjoyable. Committee reports were filled with favorable comments. The entire staff would like to express sincere thanks to the entire community for their help and support.

Young, but growing is the best way to describe the 1980 Varsity Baseball team. All of the team's scores may have pulled off a 6-13 record, but the determination and the ability of the team gave them a perfect season.

Concentration is the key word on Billy Corn's face as he warms up his pitching arm.

WE'VE GOT TONIGHT—MAY 9, 1980

And oh what a night it was! Guys dressed sharp enough to dazzle the gals, and girls wore evening gowns with frills to lighten up the eyes of the fellows.

As with every prom, pictures were taken, dancing rocked the floors to the beat of the band, GRAND STAND, and queens were crowned for the night. These lucky girls were April Hedgecock and Susan White. Refreshments, a must for such an exhausting night, were served by three pretty Sophomores, Laura Pittman, Marsha West and Terri OBriant. These girls caused many guys to make a trip to the punch bowl as often as possible.

When the night grew on, more brave souls hit the dance floor and cups were used as building blocks to see who could stack up the most. Naturally though, what goes up—must come down.

The band slowed down, signaling the closing of a special night. Dates were returned home and tuxedos were hung to dry. Flowers and programs were pressed into scrap books to keep the memory of this special occasion.

DREAMING OF TOMORROW

August 25, 1968-August 25, 1980

August 25, 1968. It was the first day of school for a future rising senior class. This was a day of fun for this year's seniors because they really did not know what school was all about. The first grade was somewhat like a test for these beginners getting them ready for what was ahead.

A few years later came the big change from elementary to junior high: the school was Trinity Junior High School. In this school, everybody had the chance to meet lots of new friends. This was a school with pride; pride that Trinity students carried from the junior high to the high school in the years to follow.

This group of people entered Trinity High School as a group of freshmen—the youngest faces in the crowd. Examples that the three upper classes set were followed by these anticipating students. Days passed, and so did seasons of football, wrestling, and basketball, and so did holiday dances and parties, and so did the trying times of taking (and hopefully passing) exams, and so did the years of being a freshman, sophomores, or junior.

August 25, 1980. It was the first day of school for the Class of 1981. To these seniors, it seemed like only yesterday was the first day of the first grade; but that was twelve years ago. They knew that this year was going to be the greatest one of their twelve and boy, did the good times roll! This year they were the ones to set all the examples. These students were well aware that they only had 180 days to live it up as seniors—and they lived each day to the fullest, making the 1980-81 school year a year to remember.

Lisa,

You have been a good friend to me this year. I'm glad I got to be friends with you this year. And just because I'm graduating doesn't mean we will lose our friendship because I'll be seeing you around. If you ever need anything just let me know. We'll keep in touch O.K.? Love you always Lisa.

Be good + Have a nice summer
 And one more thing, you are the sweetest lady I know, and stay that way.

Love you

Yodd

It Is Tomorrow!

The sun has come out! The time has arrived for the 1981 class to launch out—venture—search to find that special niche where the experiences of life away from high school can begin to be explored!

"Bet your bottom dollar there'll be sun," clouds, happiness,—the opposite for others. There'll be financial success and those who will depend on others for survival. Talents will be used to the fullest by those who are allowed to experiment to find their abilities and the talents of some will never be known because "people" would not permit it. Some will become doctors, nurses—those people who are necessary for a healthier life. Farmers, construction workers, teachers, cooks, salesmen, etc. will become occupations.

When you're stuck with a day that's gray and lonely, just stick out your chin and grin and say—tomorrow will be a better day. Tomorrow is at hand. Those happy days that were promised are finally here.

Best Wishes!

Mr. "G"

The Sun Shines—We Made It!

A yearbook doesn't just happen; the annual staff makes it happen. One doesn't realize what it takes to produce an annual until he does it firsthand—ask any active member of the 1981 TRINHIAN staff.

To create an annual, first there must be an idea or theme in which to base the entire book. Pictures must then be made, captions must be created, and then our allotted 240 pages must be laid out. In order for the annual to be published and presented to the student body in May, deadlines had to be met. Whenever a deadline rolled around, numerous staff members stayed at school until late at night slaving over lay-out pages and typewriters. It wasn't easy. Somehow we not only made it, but we also managed to have a good time in producing what we feel is the best TRINHIAN in the history of Trinity High.

Before the book was finished, the staff had spent so much time together that we considered ourselves one big family. As the editor, I feel very fortunate to have had such a staff. They were dedicated, and when one of us became bogged down, the others would come to the rescue. My assistant editor, Annette Spinks, was brilliant in every way possible. Our two fantastic sponsors, Mr. Gamble and Mr. Hayes, and our dynamic financial advisor, Mr. Phillips, were always there for us. Words can't begin to express the gratitude that all of these people deserve.

The community most likely sees us as a money-hungry staff. Starting back during the summer, we went out begging the local merchants for advertisements. It takes thousands of dollars to produce an annual that is as large as the TRINHIAN. Without our advertisers as well as page-sponsors, the production of our yearbook would have been impossible. Thanks a million to these wonderful people!

I would also like to extend a word of thanks to all the people who are responsible for the photography used throughout the book. Last, but not least, I give gratitude to the families and friends of staff members for their encouragement and support.

Sincerely,
Lisa Hayworth, Editor.

Lisa,

It's been wonderful knowing you all these years, but a pain having you in and period pestering me all the time so I can't work (tiddling) you really a great person if you stay that way. I hope you get what you want out of life because you deserve the best. Hope to see you next year.

Have a great Summer call or come + see me & I'll be there doing anything

Lisa

Lisa,

I don't really know what to say. I do know that I love & always will remember you as a friend. I know we've had some quarrels but they ~~were~~ we've worked them out. I'm really serious, for a change. I wish you the very best & I'll love you always. By-the-way since you're only a sophomore I'd like to cap you ~~in~~ your graduate year.

Risa,

I know we've been through hell this year but we'd do it again if it meant us being friends (maybe). Maybe one day we can get everything straightened out ~~and~~ and hang around each other. You know Risa's a bitch but I guess this is all just a part of growing up. I know one thing I'll be glad to grow up. Well I wish you all the best luck in the future and hope you and "whoever" make things work. Raise hell and Party Big Time! The best of friends always,

Linda Shaw

P.S. BE GOOD & BE
IF YOU CAN'T BE GOOD AT IT.

LISA,

I have enjoyed being in class with you. I don't know you that good, but we have had some good times in class. I hope to see you some this summer & next year. See ya around

Lisa,

Of all the years we've been to school I've known
"of" you. I hope in the years to come we can become better friends. You're really sweet of what I know of you & I hope you
stay that way!

Lisa,
I remember last year
when I'd never really talked to you, I was scared of you.
You were mean, but I know you're not. You better know you want to be! I hope you have the best time of your life this summer. I hope you or some of your classes next year. But not all Burchette. I hope period, would have been fun, I would have been peer thrown out. I'd worm made the best of
it. Call me sometime
